

Coatings

Please do not apply a glossy coating to your artwork, until it has been photographed. The shiny surface can cause difficulty with reflections, glare and color reproduction.

Borders

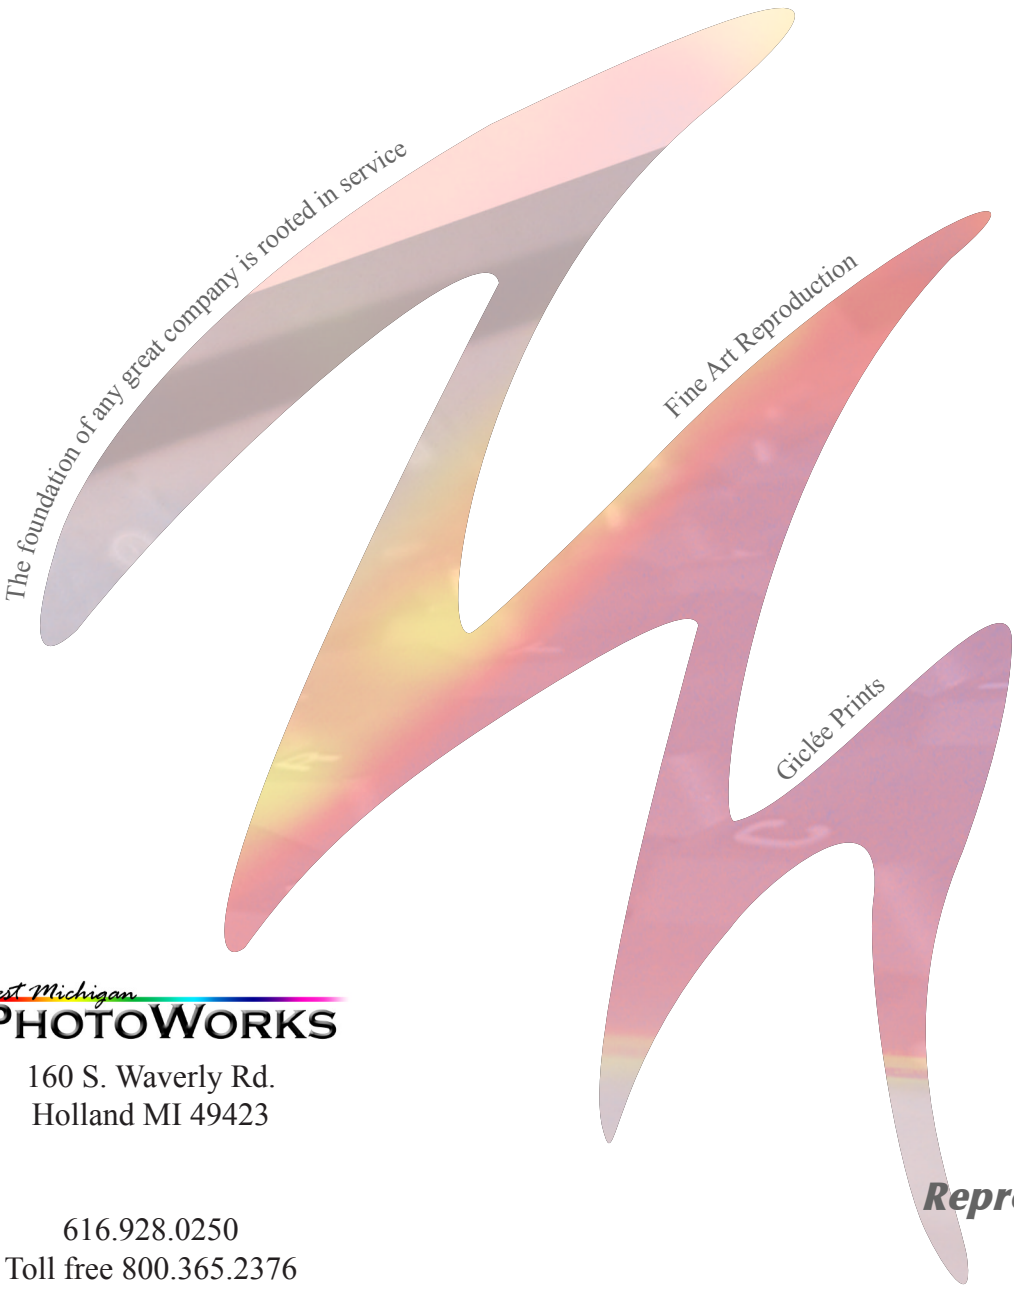

Borders are offered at no additional charge. The border size reduces the image size on a given sheet of paper. Industry standards for Giclee prints calls for 2” borders. Please keep this in mind when ordering print sizes with borders. You may need additional border with canvas depending on stretching techniques.

Cropping

You must specify cropping if your image does not fit the aspect ratio of your selected print size. Otherwise, we will print the image full frame and leave uneven borders.

Reorders

An archived file is maintained for you as long as you are a customer in good standing. Reprints are able to be obtained with a call or email to us. Reorders, after 60 days, are priced as new print orders, without a setup charge.

Fine Art Reproduction

Using the experience of our staff and the most advanced technology available today, we are pleased to offer the highest quality reproductions. Personal attention to you and great respect for your artwork is our hallmark. We understand the investment you have in the work and your desire to receive a reproduction that you and your customers will be pleased with.

Photo prints are the traditional way of introducing a work for reproduction and are an excellent choice for art show, fair and marketplace sales. Our pricing allows you to purchase a smaller quantity of prints with a smaller investment. Our archiving service gives you the flexibility of simply calling us to order additional prints of successful images.

Giclée prints are the highest form of print reproduction. These prints are museum quality prints on artist canvas, watercolor or matte papers using the most archival media available. Giclée prints are most often used to produce limited edition reproductions.

Photographic Prints

Photo prints are printed on Kodak Endura papers, the longest rated color papers available in the professional market today. Independent testing rates this paper at a 100 year display life and 200 years dark storage.

If you provide us with an original artwork to copy, there is a $55.00 charge to copy the artwork, scan the film and proof the image to your satisfaction. If you provide an acceptable film or digital file, the cost to prepare for printing is $25.00.
